Historical Background and Origins

Historical Context

The New Testament was written in a period of intense religious and political upheaval within the Roman Empire, roughly between 50 CE and 110 CE. This era was marked by the rise of Christianity from a small Jewish sect to a distinct religious movement gaining widespread traction.

Authorship and Composition

The authorship of the New Testament books remains a subject of scholarly debate, but traditionally, they are attributed to figures such as the apostles Peter, Paul, John, Matthew, and others. The texts were originally penned in Koine Greek, the lingua franca of the Eastern Mediterranean.

Formation of the Canon

The process of canonization?deciding which writings are authoritative?was gradual, with church leaders deliberating over various texts over several centuries. By the 4th century, the 27 books of the current New Testament were widely accepted as canonical.

Structure and Content of the New Testament

The New Testament can be broadly divided into three categories:

- The Gospels
- The Acts of the Apostles and the Epistles

Each category serves a distinct purpose, collectively providing a comprehensive narrative and doctrinal foundation.

Themes in the Epistles include:

- Justification by faith.
- Christian love and unity.
